Now With F.M.I.

It is a straight offer for a great cause:
Fifty per cent commission on each new Herald subscription goes to the C.H. Yoe High School band.

Forty per cent commission for each magazine subscription, new or renewal.

Forty per cent commission for each Herald renewal.

It is as simple as that.

The door-to-door, house-to-house drive begins Thursday, September 8. The drive ends September 26.

It means funds for Yoe High School band trips, band contests and special events which will benefit all 115 members of the YHS band, the UIL sweepstakes winner last spring.

It benefits the busiest representative this town and county have -- C.H. Yoe band.

It benefits each member who can share benefits of travel and first-rate competition for all the work in practice sessions, marching and rehearsal. It is a good thing for a great group.

Your Cameron Herald and this column are delighted the advantages and marvels of modern music are brought to this area by this band, our kids.

So save your money, won't you? Support one of the best things that happens to this town when the C.H. Yoe High School band takes to the field.

Let's watch them practice. Cheer their performances! Boost their funds for contests and trips they richly deserve.

Milam-Areans Man Struck By Train

A Mexican national was in fair condition at a Robertson County hospital after he was struck by a train southwest of Hearne. The train's engineer said the man apparently had fallen asleep between a main and side track and stood just before the train hit him. He was being treated for multiple abrasions, cuts and possibly broken ribs.

Officer Raps City Practice

The practice of just filing public intoxication charges for drunk drivers in Georgetown was deplored by the county probation officer, who told Williamson County commissioners that a person charged with public intoxication, who was caught while driving, won't be put on probation and won't be sent to alcoholic rehabilitation.

Coach Explains Decline

McGregor's head coach, Rudy Phillips, gave his coffee-drinking companions at the school food for thought when he remarked: "If the quality of education has declined from what it used to be, there is one underlying reason. Teachers used to coach, and now coaches teach."

Budget Allows Improvements

Crediting a new school finance bill with giving the Rockdale ISD a big cut in local fund assignments for the 1977-78 school year, school trustees adopted a budget with $123,351 set aside for capital improvements at no extra cost to local taxpayers. The record $1,836,768 budget is more than $300,000 over last year's.

Jewelry Theft Uncovered

Four rings worth about $1,500 and belonging to a Houston woman were stolen from a storage company in Waco, police said. The rings were in a jewelry box that had been put in a suitcase that was left unlocked when it was stored at Texas Fireproof Storage Co. The theft was believed to have occurred about May 30.

RC Manager In Dutch

The medical advisory committee of the Central Texas Red Cross Blood Center at Waco has recommended to the National Red Cross that local chapter manager Bob Edwards be relieved of all responsibilities for the regional blood program. Action came after two key blood program personnel resigned, accusing Edwards of harassment and unnecessary interference with their duties.

Cool Air Greets Students

Gatesville school students were greeted Monday morning with a whiff of air conditioners, making back-to-school time more pleasant for all of them. The remodeling and air conditioning of the elementary school and high school buildings was a $557,000 project. The primary and junior high schools were already air conditioned.

Luecke Named Vice - Chairman For NNA Group

Luecke has been named to the major committee post by incoming NNA President Harold Hudson, of Perryton, now vice-president of the 7,000 - member newspaper organization.

Government relations has three sub-committees, which before were separate committees: public notice, freedom of information and postal affairs. Luecke chaired public notice and co-chaired freedom of information before NNA committee reorganization this year.

NNA government relations committee makes recommendations to the NNA board for policy. Luecke is in his fourth year as NNA chairman in Texas and third year on the executive committee of Texas Press Association.

Rains Come For Some

Dove hunters hated to hear it, but areas in and around Milam County finally got some rain Wednesday when thunderstorms dumped amounts ranging from three inches to traces.

The Belmena community northeast of Cameron recorded a three-inch downpour while Maysfield's sprinkle wasn't enough to settle the dust. A storm that uprooted a tree on the W. J. Crenan farm west of Burlington left rain measuring over two inches, but at Ben Arnold there was not enough moisture to measure.

In Cameron amounts ranged from a half inch to .90, and a storage shed on 22nd St. was turned over by winds. Over two inches were measured in the Hanover area while Rockdale was barely dampened.

The scattered rainshowers brought about an inch to Buckholts,

2.25 to Rosebud, and amounts varying from an inch or more at Milam. San Gabriel had about .07, more or less.

At Gause no rain fell, and a Herald correspondent said "It's just awful," noting that it has rained all around the town but there has been no rain this summer and conditions are dry.

It has been a long, dry summer for just about all the Milam area, which is nothing new, but temperatures have been higher than normal, resulting in dry pasturelands and lowering of the levels in stock tanks.

Dove hunters note that just about every year the drought breaks when the season opens and the wild birds that have been going to stock tanks to drink have choice puddles available to foil plans for an easy hunt.

October Show Has Plans For All

Committeemen for the October 1 Autumn Arts and Crafts Show are busy making final preparations for the expanded annual event which promises to have something interesting for everyone.

"Many new attractions have been added to an already successful show, but we want to have something for everyone to enjoy, from the youngest member of the family to the oldest," said Mrs. Barbara Roberts, co-chairman of this year's show along with Lois Sapp.

New to the show this year is the Flea Market, under the heading of Sandy Walthall; an auction being directed by Pam Crowe; children's activities with Marjorie Riley in charge; clowns being scheduled by Marion Wright; musical entertainment being arranged by Shirley Hollas; and tennis tournament directed by Buddy Shipp.

The city park will take on a festive air for the one day event with decorations by Pam Browder, LaMerle Zajicek, Pat Barrett and Pat Epperson.

"Antique Cars On Review" is being handled by Charles Strode of the Chamber of Commerce and development committee but is being held in conjunction with the arts and crafts show. Tours from the Milam County Museum to the Mall, where the antique cars will be located, back to the city park, are being planned under the direction of Virginia Schuhsler.

Mrs. Barbara Smitherman, chairman of the arts and crafts booths urges all persons or organizations wishing to have booth space to contact her or the Chamber of Commerce office to make reservations. By making early reservations, publicity can be given those booths and area residents will be aware of those talents, local and out of town, that will be represented at the show. To date 24 booths have been reserved for arts, crafts and food.

Other areas of the show and their chairmen are: exhibits and demonstrations, Shirley Kelm; food booths, Mrs. Leo Fuchs; hospitality and parking, Brenda Hoelscher; cake walk, Gloria Fikes; booth arrangements, Pearl Krenek; publicity, Barbara Smitherman, Shirley Kelley, Lois Hill and Lois Sapp.

Stressing final preparations for the autumn show, committeemen will meet each Wednesday at 12 noon at the Chamber of Commerce office for a work-lunch session.

Youth Rebuilding Broken World

By Lois Sapp
First of a 3 part series

Waiting, months of waiting. Time to reflect the past. Time to plan the future.

Edwin Marek Jr. remembers that tragic night when his young world came tumbling down. When a loving family helped turn anguish and despair into bold determination.

Junior, as he is affectionately called, had the world by the tail until that fateful night of April 20, 1974. His automobile left the road near Rogers and he and his brother, Donny, were critically injured.

The realization that his injuries had left him paralyzed was a fact that he courageously met head on.

From the long days of suffering and the slow battle to improve, emerged a 20 year old man filled with life and compassion for his fellow man.

Without a moment of self pity, he told how he was snatched out of the classrooms at Yoe High to spend months in another kind of learning center.

The brothers had been taken to a Temple hospital following the accident. When Donny was released about a month later, Junior was transferred to Houston.

"I was what you call a C4-5 Quad, meaning that I was paralyzed between the 4th and 5th vertebra," Junior explained. "I was supposed to be paralyzed from the neck down, but I have use of both my arms. My left arm is the best and I can do anything with it I want to."

"I have the use of my fingers too, so I'm one of the fortunate ones", he said while adding that he has never seen another quadriplegic who has had the use of their fingers.

Harden Won't Run

Milam County Judge O.B. Harden has announced that he will not be a candidate for re-election in 1978. Harden was appointed to the post of county judge on August 1, 1966.

Mechanics Of Accounting

We are glad the mechanics of going to a computerized accounting system was the reason for the $81,000 bookkeeping error in county accounting.

There was no shortage of funds, of course. It was simply a matter of dealing with the infinite detail of accounting procedures which was explained by partner Ray Harris of the Sinton CPA firm of Harris, Havens & Co. He gave a three-part explanation.

Now Milam County has the system in control which brings it to modern standard in computerized accounting.

Anytime a system is updated from hand entries to this level of accountability, considering all the changes inherent in county government anyhow, there will be error.

People understand. And county officials understand the necessity of even closer liaison with various departments in this new system.

Now we can get on with real problems.

An Uncommon Man

Quick action by Cameronite Emil Zalesky saved a train wreck or some kind of derailment the other day at the Gillis Street crossing.

He heard a loud noise, "like a sledgehammer hitting the rails", and discovered a break in Santa Fe tracks. A short time later he hailed a Southern Pacific train from Waco before it could reach the break in the tracks.

This is the interest of citizen which prevents little things from becoming disasters. Mr. Zalesky was congratulated in a letter from the Southern Division superintendent of Santa Fe Railroad.

We join in congratulating this Cameron blacksmith for taking interest in a problem. This time in our lives, he is an uncommon man.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

August 22, 1977

Mr. Frank M. Luecke
Publisher
Herald
108 E. First Street
Cameron, Texas 76820

Dear Frank:

Leadership in the National Newspaper Association has never been more important. In the upcoming year we will continue to deal with a relatively new administration. Two major NNA meetings are scheduled in 1978, the Government Affairs Conference, March 8-11, and the Annual Convention and Trade Show, October 18-21, in beautiful San Diego, California.

NNA President George Joplin has graciously agreed that we should begin recruiting committee members for 1977-78 as early as possible. It is my hope that many of our new committees can be formed in time to have meaningful meetings and formulate plans of action for the coming year at NNA's Annual Convention and Trade Show, October 26-29, in Houston, Texas.

With the necessity of good leaders in mind, it is my hope that you will join in NNA's programming and committee work for 1977 by accepting an appointment to serve as Vice Chairman of NNA's Government Relations Committee.

The Government Relations Committee is responsible for studying federal regulations and legislative proposals that impact on newspapers and freedom of the press. The subcommittees are on Public Notice, Freedom of Information and Postal Affairs. The Government Relations Committee and its subcommittees do not set policy on legislative matters, but make recommendations to the NNA Board of Directors which makes final determinations on policy matters.

Hopefully, you will be able to personally participate in any committee meetings and attend one or more of our two major meetings. Even if you cannot attend these meetings, you will still be able to provide input into the area of responsibility for your committee, and to help the NNA officers and staff stimulate interest in and help get others to participate in the affairs of NNA.

May we count on your continued participation in NNA programs? Please let me know by an early response to NNA headquarters. If you accept, please send along a glossy print and a one paragraph biography for use in making the announcement of your acceptance.

Members of your committee are being recruited through NNA's affiliated state associations and complete lists will be provided as soon as they are available.

I look forward to hearing from you.

See y'all in Houston

Harold Hudson
Vice President

"Edwin (Junior's father) and myself had to learn to transfer him and put him into bed and care for his other needs," his mother explained.

However, before he could come home certain preparations had to be made at their modest farm home 5 miles west of Cameron.

A room had to be added to their home, complete with a ramp at the front door, and furnished with a hospital bed, a large shower to accommodate a shower chair and weights and therapy equipment.

"If I wouldn't have been for my family, I don't know what I would have done," he spoke with affection for his parents, 3 brothers and a sister. "Donny's 18 now and Dennis is 16, Rodney 12 and Beverly is 8, and their lives have been changed too."

The Mareks are a hard working family. They have a strong faith and are members of the Abiding Savior Lutheran Church. Full of pride, they have asked for no help from local sources. But they are thankful for Mr. Marek's job insurance and the small amount of help they have received from Crippled Childrens Foundation and Texas Rehabilitation.

They decline to reveal the tre-

White-Collar Crime

By GILBERT GEIS

Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of 15 articles exploring "Crime and Justice in America." In the following article Gilbert Geis, Professor of Social Ecology at the University of California, Irvine, discusses the extent and nature of white-collar crime in the United States. This series was written for COURSES BY NEWSPAPER, a program developed by University Extension, University of California, San Diego, and funded by a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities. Supplemental funding for this course was provided by the Center for Studies of Crime and Delinquency, National Institute of Mental Health.

Copyright 1977 by the Regents of the University of California.

Why do persons who have wealth and power take and offer bribes, cheat on their income taxes, violate antitrust laws, and knowingly market defective automobiles and airplanes?

The answers are as different as the crimes themselves. Some persons commit such offenses because they want more money or more power or a corporate promotion. Others do such things because they think that's the way business has always been conducted. And still others do it because they are lazy, or don't really see anything wrong with cheating, bribing and deception.

One thing is certain: the standard explanations for juvenile delinquency and criminal behavior cannot account for "white-collar crime" -- the name by which such upperworld law-breaking is known.

Poverty, broken homes, reading disabilities, psychiatric disorders, and similar disadvantages do not explain the behavior of wealthy and entrenched white-collar criminals.

Such criminals can be well educated, happily married, devout in their church attendance, and marvelously successful in their jobs. But these conditions do not make or keep them honest.

White-collar crime is commonplace in the United States -- just how common is not known because good statistics are lacking. The late Sen. Philip Hart once estimated that the nation lost $200 billion annually from white-collar crime, while the U.S. Chamber of Commerce gave a much lower but still startling figure -- $40 billion per year.

PUBLIC CYNICISM

Most citizens take such extensive white-collar crime for granted. Indeed public cynicism may be its most corrosive characteristic. For example, we seem to expect politicians to be subject to influence, if only by the subtle insinuations of campaign contributions.

Court ordered sanctions against corporations and cease and desist orders from administrative agencies often are regarded as part of the normal price of doing business, in the same manner that prostitutes consider fines and arrests to be occupational hazards.

Professional persons, supposedly trained to altruism and ethics, engage in white-collar crime. Income tax authorities believe that doctors and lawyers, as self-employed persons, do much more cheating on their taxes than most of us.

Recent Senate investigations have revealed widespread evidence of fraud by doctors submitting claims under Medicaid. That many lawyers do not necessarily obey the law is illustrated by the extraordinarily large roster of attorneys involved in the Watergate crimes.

Hypocrisy is a hallmark of white-collar crime. Offenders avoid calling what they have done by its blunt criminal name. They may grant that their behavior was "illegal," but they are likely to resist having it called "criminal." For example, an executive involved in the 1961 antitrust violations, which were flagrant crimes, issued a statement to the press saying that he was about to serve a jail term "for conduct which has been interpreted as being in conflict with the complex antitrust laws."

Former President Nixon and his Attorney General called for harsh punishments for street criminals at a time when they themselves were enmeshed in extensive criminal activity. Such statements characterize the double standard for underworld and upperworld crime.

COST OF WHITE-COLLAR CRIME

White-collar criminals steal more money than traditional criminals. Thus, bank embezzlers steal much more from banks than robbers; a million dollar robbery would be a sensational news event, while a million dollar embezzlement is fairly commonplace.

The heavy electrical equipment conspiracy in 1961, one of the first major corporate criminal cases, involved millions of dollars of overcharges to public utilities and government. Nevertheless, it was reported under "Business" news in one of the country's leading weekly magazines, with the "Crime" section reserved for "real" crime.

Similarly, illegal corporate campaign bribes that have come to light in the last three years have generally been treated as business or political news.

Yet white-collar crime can produce more social damage than so-called "real" crime. Muggings, burglaries and robberies can unite people in moral condemnation of the behavior.

As the French sociologist Emile Durkheim noted, such crimes can make people behave better by emphasizing what we abhor and showing what happens to people who behave in an unacceptable manner.

White-collar crimes, on the contrary, breed social malaise. They create distrust, cynicism, and greed -- if others are doing it, I'll get my share too. Tax authorities for example, believe cheating increased sharply after revelation of Mr. Nixon's tax deceits.

What can be done about white-collar crime?

AROUSING THE PUBLIC

It is essential, first to recognize the existence and the importance of white-collar crime. Street crimes and traditional offenses are routinely tabulated by government agencies. Every three months the media herald their publication, noting either the number of offenses are higher (usually they are), or are showing an encouraging, although slight, decline. These reports strongly influence public attitudes and public policy.

No government agency in the same way as the FBI's "Uniform Crime Reports" regularly proclaims how much antitrust activity is going on, whether doctors are involved in less Medicaid fraud or more, or whether bribery is on the increase.

and history at home and I went to school for Ag and English 4. In Co-op I worked doing bookkeeping for Mr. Tisdworth", he explained.

Mrs. Boutwell beamed as she praised young Edwin saying "He's great, never did complain and all the time I was teaching him he had just one bad day. I asked him if he ever felt depressed, but he just never did make a big deal about himself and never felt sorry for himself."

"He didn't think much of school, always wanted to farm and he was a good mechanic. He may have lost his physical abilities, but there is nothing wrong with his mind and he uses it to the fullest capabilities", she continued.

Explaining how he was able to get around at school, he said a friend, Steven Hanel, and his brother Donny would take him where he needed to go. And his brother would feed him lunch at school. Other students were always willing to help too.

On the night of May 30, 1975, a tear filled crowd rose to a standing ovation as the young man went forward to receive his high school diploma.

But Junior knew he could not quit here. There were other challenges he had to meet. Somehow, he would fulfill his dream to be a useful employed citizen.

Next: Finding Himself

Large federal grants, particularly from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration in the Department of Justice, have gone to investigate street crime and strengthen police forces to deal with such crime. The rare LEAA activities on white-collar crime have focused almost exclusively on fly-by-night consumer frauds. Crimes by the entrenched and powerful remain unexamined.

Part of the problem of arousing public and official concern lies in the diffuse character of injury from white-collar crime. Street crimes of violence produce immediate injury; illegal air pollution kills more slowly. Steal someone's wallet and the scream of anguish is immediate. But a purchase and the outrage disappears.

PRISONS VS. CRIME

Difficult issues arise, too, in regard to the most effective manner of dealing with captured white-collar criminals. It is unlikely that they will ever again do what they were caught at (but then, the same is true for most murderers.)

Some would argue that white-collar criminals should not be imprisoned, and that the shame they reap seems punishment enough. Furthermore, if they are professional persons, they may be barred from practicing their vocation, although professional groups such as bar, medical, and accountants' associations often seem more concerned with protecting prerogatives than with prosecuting miscreants.

Others differ, saying what we need to make an example of white-collar criminals to deter others.

The argue too that justice and fairness insist that "crimes in the streets" and "crime in the suites" be treated similarly.

One recent head of the Justice Department's Criminal Division, Richard Thornburgh, argued that "imposition of prison terms, joined with appropriately terms, fines, should be the rule in white-collar cases... At present, said to say, benefits which an offender can anticipate from many white-collar crimes may be measured in millions of dollars."

Some say that the white collar crime is more culpable: have more advantages than others, bears more responsibility to the law.

Thornburgh observed, "It is hard to justify incarcerating the ghetto youth for theft of a car while at the same time putting on probation the corrupt government official or crooked attorney who has abused his position and milked the public for larger sums of money."

White-collar criminals, like most criminals, lack sympathy for their victims. They don't understand -- or care -- that they are hurting others who have a right to fair dealing. Ralph Nader has suggested that a coal mine executive who runs a unsafe pit, for instance, should be sentenced to work in the mines, where he would acquire a feeling of empathy for those he was exposing to danger.

Whatever the remedy for white-collar crime, nobody looking at the facts can fail to be convinced that the phenomenon requires more attention that it currently receives from the public, criminologists, and government authorities. White-collar crime is real criminality, and it deserves our full concern, and our strong cries of indignation. It has been overlooked for too long.

A father, Louis Orsag and his eldest son, August Orsag, 18, lying side by side in grey caskets Monday, bespoke a tragedy almost unbearable for a wife and mother. Only 36 hours had flown between the death of the two. Louis Orsag died instantly Saturday night from a broken neck and a broken and crushed right leg in a car accident on highway 77 and 44 near the Dusek filling station. August was carried to Cameron Hospital and was first reported to have only three broken fingers and cuts and bruises. Storm sewers for the city of Cameron have become garbage pits. The stench issuing from sewers, dead cats, blight of accumulation of decaying hamburger meat, dead rats, waste from kitchens syphoned across the sidewalk by rubber hoses is much more compelling than the odor that assaults the evening breeze when city employees begin disturbing the night soil.

Love Of Older People Drew Administrator To Nursing Home

A love of old people developed through volunteer work at a nursing home drew Mrs. Pat Barrow to her post as new administrator of Cameron Nursing Home where she is making sure that the recently publicized nursing home abuses do not take place in Cameron.

Mrs. Barrow, who lives in Caldwell, was administrator of the Sw-etbriar Nursing Home in College Station before coming to Cameron. Her husband works for Alcoa and they have two sons, ages 6 and 3. Her interest in older folks started when she did volunteer work at Leisure Lodge in Caldwell, where her mother is director of nurses, and said she has always loved old people and finds them interesting.

"You don't forget them when you go home at night," Mrs. Barrow said. "It is a big responsibility." She is on duty five days a week and is on call on weekends for anything that comes up and needs special handling.

She supervises a staff of 35, seeing that all state standards are met, the patients well taken care of with proper food and medical attention. An RN consultant comes for four hours a week, LVNs are on duty for each shift, with a number of aides who are "the backbone of the home."

Another important person at the home is Stacey Hunt, who works as activity director and secretary. She supervises arts and crafts, games, domino tournaments played with Colonial Nursing Home residents, takes them over to the other home for square dancing, provides for rides in cooler weather, and arranges monthly birthday parties. On Wednesdays the residents enjoy music provided by Jesse White and David Johnson, and church services are conducted by visiting pastors on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

The residents have access to large-print editions of the Readers Digest, and records and tapes for the blind or those who can't see very well.

Becky Miller, director of nurses, also expresses a special feeling for old people.

"It is like one big family," she says. "A lot of the residents don't have families and we are the only ones who see them day to day and care about them."

She has been nursing director at Cameron Nursing Home for a year, and worked in the other Cameron home, Colonial Nursing Home, before moving to her present post.

Mrs. Barrow said volunteers are needed to help out with arts and crafts, help with birthday parties, write letters for residents, read to them, or do other services to make the old folks feel like someone cares for them.

She said during the school term the Junior Historians have been great helpers.

The administrator praised all her staff, saying that they work together well, with hardly any turnover over the years.

Area residents who have relatives in this nursing home can be assured that they are well taken care of by this dedicated group of people.

Kit Available For Tracing Family Roots

Did Alex Haley's dramatic story of "Roots" cause you to wonder about your own family history? A foresighted New England firm has just introduced a basic kit complete with all the information needed to begin searching for your own "roots."

The Family Roots Basic Kit, developed by Gibbs Publishing Company, Laconia, New Hampshire 03246, contains a binder, family group chart, pedigree charts, a filing system and complete instructions with suggested sources. It sells for $9.95 postpaid, and is a great gift idea, according to the publisher.

Family history research, or genealogy, has been quietly occupying third place among national hobbies for some time, but with the advent of "Roots", has begun to overtake both coin and stamp collecting as a national pastime.

"Most Americans can trace their family history into at least the mid-1700s," says Bette T. Whitney, the firm's professional genealogist. "We have included in our kit all materials necessary for a person to trace his ancestry at least that far."

HIGHWAY SAFETY

One of the most dangerous emergencies on today's super-highways is the stalled car. To prevent stalls, or if you are driving a car that stalls, here's what the experts recommend you do:

• While you car still has momentum, coast immediately to the shoulder. Don't waste precious time trying to get the engine started again—get off the road.

NEVER VENTURE onto a highway if you hear a sound in your engine that should be corrected.

Don't let the devil stand in the way of your happiness. She solemnly swears to help you overcome your problems. She will show you how she can help you! Just call her now! Take a minute to call her. You will feel happiness all around you.

Bullock Tops $75 Million Goal

Comptroller Bob Bullock said that his field offices have already passed their goal of $75 million in tax collections with a month still remaining in the current fiscal year.

Bullock said his office had promised the Legislature that the enforcement officers working out of his 40 field offices would collect $73.9 million during fiscal year 1977 (September 1, 1976 through August 31, 1977).

At the end of July the entire twelve-month goal had been beaten, he said.

"Whatever we collect during August will be just country-thick cream gravy," Bullock said. "I don't mind bragging on this fine effort. That's $75 million that wouldn't be in the State Treasury if we hadn't gone out to get it."

The Comptroller added that his auditors have also been busy, setting up another $87.4 million in additional taxes owed through audits during the same 11 months.

"You can understand the significance of that figure when you realize that during all of fiscal 1974—the last full fiscal year before I took office—the entire audit production of the Comptroller's Office was only $14 million," Bullock said.

Finally, Bullock noted, his judgments against delinquents — more than twice the total amount collected on judgments for the entire twelve years before he took office.

When driving in the rain, choose the driest lane. The right lane gets more traffic than the others and is generally the driest.

Cameron Schools Get Summer 'Face Lift'

New paint, new science lab facilities, and restroom renovations greeted school students when they returned to classes on Cameron campuses as a result of improvements made during the summer.

Outside trim on O.J. Thomas Junior high was repainted, and a new science lab was completed last week. It was built in the school's old homemaker room and is a modern, up-to-date addition to the school.

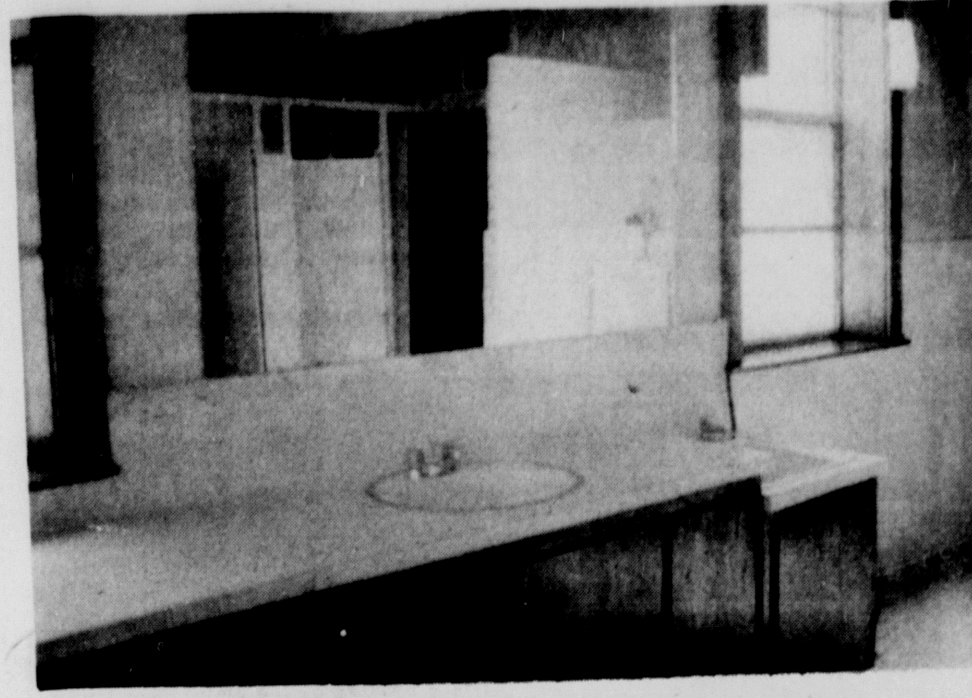

Conditions in the Yoe High restrooms on the ground floor are much improved, with new tile floors, stall doors, added new lavatories and

Scrimmage Edge Goes To Crockett, 2-0

The Yoe line kept scrimmage-opponent Austin Crockett busy Friday before a light crowd of perhaps 600 people at Yoe Field, but Crockett crossed the Yoe goal twice for a 2-0 margin.

A sturdy Yoe Defense drew Crockett backs for losses in three series of downs, stopped them for no gain twice and sacked Crockett quarterbacks twice.

David Rosemond at quarterback hit John McIntyre on a throw of 37 yards in the Yoe's third possession and went 20 yards on the 16th carry of the third Yoe possession.

Rosemond and John Schmidt shared defensive honors for the Yoe-men though Crockett scored on the 10th carry of the second possession for a 3-yard score. An interference call set up the score at the Yoe 12.

The second Crockett score came when Gary Robinette hit David Edwards for 65 yards and a TD.

The Yoe offense couldn't muster the big play or the big break on any of the drives during the scrimmage.

No score is kept in a scrimmage and the field is almost as busy with coaches and officials as players.

Robinette threw two passes for 18 and 20 yards to Crockett ends, hitting Don Rohre, a big 6-4, for 20 yards and Edwards for 15 in the first series of downs.

Another Crockett quarterback hit three gainers from 11 to 13 yards during the scrimmage. Yoe's Billy Pittman intercepted one pass and Chris Jenkins knocked down another. Rosemond intercepted one Crockett pass and Charles Harde-man snagged another during Crockett's fourth possession.

Crockett defensive players threw Yoe backs for losses on five occasions and sacked Rosemond once.

Billy Pair and James Thompson sacked the Crockett signal caller on Austin's second possession, later to be sacked again by Schmidt. Jimmy Zalesky recovered a Crockett fumble during the Austin team's third possession.

It was the first scrimmage for both teams. And freshmen and junior varsity teams scrimmaged Crockett opponents in Austin Friday night.

Titling Fee For Most Boats Goes To $3.50

Texas boating enthusiasts will have to pay a little more for their boat and motor titles after August 29. The 65th Legislature this year authorized the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department to increase the fee on that date from $2 to $3.50.

This will apply to all boat titling transactions, including the original certificate of title, a certified copy of the original, or a corrected copy.

Another change also was authorized. Duplicates of the validation decals, or stickers reflecting expiration date of the TX registration number, in the past have been issued free when originals were lost or damaged. A charge of $1 now will be made for such duplicates.

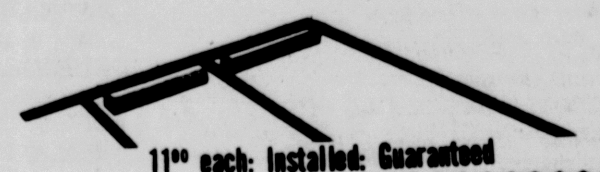

Since January 1, 1976, an amendment to the Texas Water Safety Act requires a certificate of title from the P&WD for motorboats in excess of 14 feet and for any outboard engine of 12 or more horsepower.

Although no title is necessary for motorboats under 14 feet, registration still is required on all motorboats regardless of length and the registration numbers must be affixed to either side of the bow. Sailboats and canoes are exempt from the registration requirement unless they have auxiliary motors.

Astroworld Planning 'Super September'

A bevy of talented performers will highlight Astroworld's string of four fun-filled weekend celebrations during its annual "Super September" extravaganza beginning Labor Day weekend through September 25.

A salute to the fifties will kick off Labor Day weekend with entertainment by the Coasters of "Charlie Brown" and "Yakety-Yak" fame and Chuck Berry, a premier figure of the rock and roll era.

Amid displays of the classic 1950s automobiles and jitter-bug contests with cash prizes, the Coasters will perform two shows daily Friday through Monday and Chuck Berry will take the stage twice daily on Saturday and Sunday.

"Marvel McFey's Superstar Weekend" on September 10-11 is planned specifically for the little ones with featured guests "Batman and Robin." The dynamic duo will be joined by CoCo the Clown and Marvel McFey and his enchanted animals.

The third weekend of "Super September" is reserved for death-defying daredevils and those not faint of heart. The "Thrills and Chills Weekend" agenda for September 17-18, includes such suspenseful acts as Koske, the Human Bomb (every performance could be his last), and the Vashek duo, high-wire motorcyclists.

The Houston theme park's celebration could not be complete without the traditional "Country and Western Weekend" planned for September 24-25. Featured singer will be Kenny Rogers who immortalized the names "Ruby" and "Reuben James" when he was with a group called the First Edition. As a solo artist Rogers had developed the country flavor in his taste for music with such hits as "Lucille."

Square dancers, rhythm cloggers, and a Texas Fast Draw contest will add to the country atmosphere in the Western Junction section of the park.

Vacancies Up For Women In AF

A one third increase in the number of vacancies for women enlisting in the Air Force during fiscal year 1978 has been announced by recruiting service officials. The increase will bring the projected goal for women to 13,120.

"Most of the women will be needed during the December 1977 through May 1978 time frame in order to meet Air Force requirements," stated Colonel Edward D. Young Jr., director for operations. "If the projections hold true, we will need, 1,600 volunteers each month during December to May and some 700 a month during the rest of the fiscal year."

Opportunities exist for enlistment and subsequent training in one of some 140 specialties in mechanics, electronics, administration and general vocational areas. Women may volunteer for enlistment in all specialties, except seven combat related jobs, which are closed to women by public law.

About 7,000 of the women who enlist in FY 78 will enter training in nontraditional jobs.

Magic Stick

Lowers both air conditioning and heating costs

Instant heat and glare relief

Reusable, easily-installed window film

The thin vapor coating of aluminum prevents solar radiation from passing through glass by reflecting it back to the exterior. Without causing the temperature of the glass to rise significantly, the coating thus minimizes undesirable secondary radiation from it. Although visible light is reduced, the level of illumination remains perfectly satisfactory. Under winter conditions Magic Stick® renders glass partially reflective to long wave (or room temperature) radiation as well, thus reducing heat loss. Glass treated with MSL-300-20 has a reflectivity of 46% to this radiation compared with about 10% for untreated glass. This great assists in the conservation of winter warmth inside a building.

CUSTOM FLOORS OFFERS WIDE VARIETY OF FLOOR COVERINGS

Beautiful carpets in hundreds of patterns and colors, vinyl floor coverings, cabinets, and blinds and shades are all available at Cameron's exclusive floor shop - Custom Floors located at 1107 N. Travis (corner of 12th and Travis) in Cameron.

The most popular shag, sculpture patterns, and indoor-outdoor carpet can be laid in your home by the experts at Custom Floors. The business is owned by I.N. Hughes, who has been in the floor covering business since 1945, and who opened the shop a little over a year ago.

He is ably assisted by Frank Helsley and his son Bill. Office chores are handled by Mrs. Viva Lynn McGregor.

The shop is open five days a week, Monday through Friday from 9 til 5. Famous carpet brands include Mohawk, Marlin Mills, Stephens, Victory and Patcraft.

In the rug line, beautiful floral Axminster rugs are shown and can be purchased as an area rug, bound or fringed, or as wall-to-wall carpet.

The Mohawk line is featured at Custom Floors, and the shop is the exclusive dealer for this famous carpet in this area. The customer has a choice of hundreds of samples of carpets in all patterns and textures, and a choice of many colors and combinations.

Carpet prices range from $3.49 a square yard on up, to suit every budget. Expert installation is an important part of the shop's service.

Popular indoor - outdoor floor coverings offer beauty and convenience for bathrooms and kitchens, or other rooms in the home. This covering is easily cleaned, doesn't get as dirty and the housewife can wipe up spills with a wet cloth.

Other floor coverings include tiles and sheet vinyl, and again hundreds of samples are there for the customer's choice. Brands include Armstrong, Congoleum, GAF, Mannington and Dowd, and prices start at $2.99.

Most of these vinyl floor coverings have a no-wax finish for easy care.

For porches, steps and patios, Custom Floors has Permagrass, an outdoor turf grass that can be cleaned with a water hose.

Bill Hughes is the carpet cleaning expert. This service is offered in the home and costs only 9 cents per square foot. For 5 cents a square foot, your carpets can be treated with Carpet Guard, which keeps dirt from grinding into the carpet, makes the covering stay clean longer, and makes it easier to clean.

Custom Floors also has woven wood blinds, which are custom made to fit your windows. These blinds add a unique decorative touch and last twice as long as drapes. Custom made window shades are also available in a variety of colors and decorative finishes.

Custom Floors customers can also select kitchen cabinets, both finished and unfinished, available in oak or pecan. Cabinets and vanities are also available for the bathroom or other rooms in the home.

Custom Floors' motto is "We're out to cover the town," and as a growing business shows, it is living up to its motto.
